I bought crypto when you told me to, and sold when you told me to in /biz/.

I went 32x.

I bought guns and ammo when you told me to in /k/.

I went 18x.

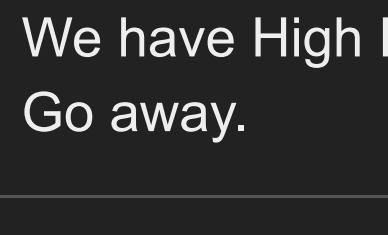

I voted for Trump when you told me to in /pol/, the country went 98x.l, even though Dems are trying to keep us at war and crash the economy to prove orange man is bad.

Now you are telling me to buy gold.

I am eager to do so, but everyone is telling me I have to get in line.

Is everyone buying gold?

What about the online auction site? Are any of the coins on there real?

Most of them are real, buy from domestic listers obviously.

The problem is, they are selling coins and bullion they no longer have in stock, and you have to wait 1 to 3 months for delivery.

I just wanted to mention in passing that when Trump takes us back on The Gold Standard, Gold will need to be set at $13,800 per ounce in order to Monetize all of the fiat out there.

There are still many places left to dig up gold on your own.

Many people did so, and survived the last Depression.

Panning for it.

There is still a lot of gold laying around, but I am sorry. I can not divest the locations.

It is better to build a high banker sluice with a water pump to shovel in to or use a drywasher if there is no water.

Plenty of ways to research it online, the problem is, once you find a good place to dig, you have to find out if it is legal to do so.
